Peter Haselsberger

Since 2012, the Hinterkaiser in St. Johann in Tirol has been more than just our home – it's our personal paradise. Each day, we find ourselves enchanted by the breathtaking mountain landscape and its diverse facets. This captivating region offers countless opportunities throughout the seasons, all of which we passionately embrace. As avid skiers and snowshoe enthusiasts, we explore the snow-covered slopes in winter, while summer beckons us to discover the surrounding natural lakes through hikes and refreshing swimming adventures. Our wildlife sanctuary surrounds our home, and within its bounds, not only my husband and I reside, but also our two lively boys and a charming array of animal companions. Our small farm includes majestic red deer, cheerful chickens, and our affectionate cat, Micky. We are wholeheartedly looking forward to welcoming you into our home and sharing the beauty of this region with all its inhabitants.
